CONFABULATIO

(State Conference)

Addressing The Unaddressed Adolescent Psychiatry

Date: 13th December 2014
Venue: PPG College of Nursing Auditorium

Co-sponsored by Tami Nadu Nurses & Midwives Council, Chennai

has granted credit hours

Dear Friends,

Warm Greetings from PPG College of Nursing

About the Host Organization:

The PPG College of Nursing was started in the year 1998 under P. Perich Gunder Memorial Charitable Trust, Coimbatore. It provides a learning environment that demonstrates excellence in Nursing Education through evidence-based teaching with the ultimate objective to prepare competent under graduate and post graduate nurses taking into consideration the emerging educational and global health requirements.

About the Conference:

To view the lives of adolescents through the lens of mental health care is to see a paradox, while some adolescents at this stage of life are thriving, they are also experiencing their moment of greatest vulnerability in terms of susceptibility to impulsive and risky behaviors involving violence, substance use, and driving. While much of the health care system is focused on addressing problems that derive predominantly from biological causes, the health concerns of adolescents generally involve behavioral practices. Health care providers need to be sensitive to the interactions between adolescents health and their life circumstances. As the time is appropriate, use the members of PPG College of Nursing would like to organize a conference on ADOLESCENT PSYCHIATRY

Objectives:

1. To make the nursing fraternities aware of recent trends in adolescent psychiatric issues thereby ensuring the optimal level of early care and treatment
2. To explore the students disruptive behavior, earlier life stress, and anxiety in both community and hospital setup.
3. To enable the staff nurses efficiently handle the teen age problems and its prevention strategies in order to minimize the complications of adolescent disorders
4. To promote the adolescent mental health by educating the nurse educators on the behavioral and substance related disorders on adolescents and to promote counseling services accordingly.
5. To master post graduate students on leadership development in the field of adolescent mental health by integrating research, clinical practice and teaching
6. To improve the access for young people on perspectives of progress challenges and thought for future and adolescent disorders.

Beneficiaries:

- Staff Nurses
- Faculty
- Research Scholars
- DGNM/AIPG Students
- Nurse Administrator
- Psychiatrist/psychologist
